Charles Nathaniel Norsworthy, 73, native and former resident of Norfolk, died Tuesday afternoon in a hospital in Savannah, Ga., after a brief illness.

Mr. Norsworthy lived in Norfolk until 25 years ago when he moved to Hardeeville, S. C., where he has lived since. He was connected with the Argent Lumber Company there.

He was the son of Mrs. Margaret E. Norsworthy, and the late James Rufus Norsworthy, of Norfolk. Besides his mother he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ollie Andrews Norsworthy; a son, Richard Andrews Norsworthy, of Savannah; a sister, Mrs. W. W. Yoder, of Norfolk, and three grandchildren.

Burial will be in Savannah.

Joe Van Horn, 52, of 2944 Forrest Side, Riverdale, died this

Deaths

Richard Randolph Norsworthy, 66, husband of Mrs. Nancy Tignor Norsworthy and son of the late John Simmons and Mrs. Sallie Bunkley Norsworthy, died at a local hospital, yesterday afternoon at 4:05 o'clock. Mr. Norsworthy was a native of Battery Park, and a resident of Norfolk for the past 40 years, residing at 323 West Thirty-fourth street at the time of his death. Besides his wife, Mrs. Nancy Tignor Norsworthy, he is survived by a son, John Tignor Norsworthy, of Norfolk; two grandchildren, John Randolph and Cassandra High Norsworthy, both of Norfolk, and two sisters, Mrs. Florence Williamson, of Alexandria, and Mrs. Sarah Diana Barlow, of Norfolk. The body was taken to the H. D. Oliver Funeral Apartments, pending arrangements.

Johnson Sylvester, 72, died at his home in St. Brides Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock after an illness of several years. A native of Ginney, N. C., he made his home in St. Brides for several years. He was the son of Johnson and

LOVE STORY

Dear Editor:

Our ranch, remote and rocky, is 20 miles from the nearest town. I often wondered what would happen to me, as all the men-for-miles around were married. Then a stranger arrived to work riding for the outfit alongside ours.

I secretly wanted to meet him but was shy—and I guess he was, too. Then one Valentine's Day he received a card with a violet pinned to it. My name is Violet, so he visited me to say thanks for the valentine. He asked me to go out with him. Now we are married, have one boy two and another baby on the way.

But I never found out who sent that valentine. Mrs. V. M. R., Wyoming

HANDY

Dispan hands plague many housewives—and sailors, doctors, nurses, hairdressers and others.

The reason: They've lost the "acid mantle" from their skin. So says Dr. Paul Gross of Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, N.Y.C. Good results can be obtained, he says, from a skin cream that is on the acid side.

Brickbats and posies are flung this way every time we present a Companion Public Service National Survey. And I suppose it will ever be thus. But among the nicest compliments is this one from an Air Force man:

I also received many warm comments about our National Survey on day care for the children of working mothers (The Children Who Can't Stay Home, September, 1954). Here is one:

COMUPPANCE DEPT.

In August I passed on psychologist Dr. Terman's advice: Don't hold brilliant children back. Right back came this indignant note:

Dear Editor:

My seven-year-old son was kept out of school for a year because his birthday was just over the deadline, although he could read well at five. My little girl taught herself to read at four; because she has a "deadline birthday" she can't enter kindergarten until September, when she'll be five and a half. Last year my little boy's first grade teacher was bitterly sarcastic about him and said that he was too advanced and too superior and caused her a great deal of trouble. We're not looking forward to school this year, naturally.

Mrs. A. W. H.
Illinois

I understand how you feel, Mrs. H. But remember that there aren't enough schools nor enough teachers in this country to take care of our present school population—let alone the increasing numbers who'll be pouring in in the next few years. Perhaps you could interest your children in study projects at home.

GIFT

A gentle, wise little man with a giant spirit died not long ago. He was poet-philosopher Irwin Edman, whom I was privileged to know as a friend. I say privileged, for though he lectured to thousands at Columbia U. each person cornered his heart and shared his thoughts that lighted the world of ideas and the music of living.

Irwin, modestly proud of being asked to lecture in French at the Sorbonne in 1951-52 school year, spent a day with me in Paris that fall. He showed me Victor Hugo's haunts, where the poets and philosophers sat to argue, and we lunched at a little cafe on the Left Bank. There he gave me the formula for his favorite aperitif, which is now my favorite: one part sweet vermouth, two parts dry vermouth, a drop of lemon juice with a slice of lemon peel floating on top.

In a way, of course, it was so like him: light, stimulating and, oh, so refreshing.

TO REMEMBER
The Reverend James V. Claypool, Secretary, American Bible Society, writes to remind us that millions of Americans of all faiths will join in concerted reading of their Bibles from Thanksgiving to Christmas. Each day in this period they'll read a different passage emphasizing the theme "Faith for Our Day." Copies of a bookmark listing passages selected by over 1000 ministers can be obtained from the American Bible Society, Dept. U, N. Y. C.
... And Carmel Snow asks us to remind you of the Lighthouse Workshop for the Blind in New York. She says, "They have wonderful brushes of all sorts, dish towels made of Irish linen, brooms for the country, charming aprons, and knitted caps and mittens."

STOP THOSE ACCIDENTS
Accident-prevention habits, like good manners, are a form of behavior and can be made a deep-rooted part of a child's nature, a recent American Medical Association Journal reports.
If a child is taught accident control early "he conducts himself all through his life with a minimum of risk, effortlessly and naturally. When a child learns that his parents' love and affection will not permit him to do any truly injurious act, he becomes more convinced of that love than by any other parental act. The

Suit: Saveall-lessee of Day
vs. Spendall and Maund.

Special verdict:

We of the jury find that George Norseworthy deed., died seized and possessed in fee simple of the land and premises in dispute.

We find that the sd. George Norseworthy duly made his will and testament in writing dated the first day of February in the year MDCC and that the will was duly proved in the County Court of Nansemond on the twelveth day of June in the year MDCCV and that the said will was admitted to record.

To find an attached copy of the said will to which we refer.

We find that the sd. testator amongst other things devised in his will as followeth, to wit:

Item: I give to my daughter Julian Norseworthy, that tract of land lying on the southern branch of the Elizabeth River to her and her heirs lawfully begotten forever and for want of such heirs then to my son John Norseworthy and his heirs male lawfully begotten forever, for want of such heirs then to my son Charles and his heirs male lawfully begotten forever and for want of such heirs, then to my son Thomas and his heirs male lawfully begotten forever and for want of such heirs then to return to my cousin Tristram Norseworthy and his heirs male forever.

Will of William Norseworthy: Leg.- cousin Julian Norseworthy, cousin Peter Blake; cousin Thomas Norseworthy the son of my brother George Norseworthy deed.; cousin Martha Norseworthy the daughter of said brother; sister Martha Boyd; brother George Norseworthy's children; to cousin George Norseworthy, Tristram Norseworthy's son; daughter Martha Norseworthy, Martha Boyd's daughter; cousin John Norseworthy; cousin George Norseworthy now in England. Ex. cousin John Norseworthy.

Col George Norseworthy was the son of Major George Norseworthy.

Nov. 6, 1717. Ind. bet. John Norseworthy Gent of Nansemond, the eldest son of Col. George Norseworthy of the same county decd., who was the eldest son of Major George Norseworthy decd., who was the eldest son of Tristram Norseworthy decd., who was the patentee of this land to George Newton of Norfolk County, etc.

Although there is no record to be found showing that Major George Pitt's wife was named Elizabeth, it seems reasonable to suppose she was the daughter named in the will of Robert Pitt in 1672. The names of the wives of the only other Norseworthy's found in the records are known, of this period.

John Norseworthy wife was Francis. W. & D. Bk., 2, page 82.

Major George Norseworthy was the son of Col. Tristram Norseworthy whose first land patent was dated in 1638. In 1639 he patented land for his personal adventure and for the personal adventure of his wife Ann. Cavaliers & Pioneers, page 83 & 111.

Tristram Norseworthy was a member of the House of Burgesses 1639-40, from Upper Norfolk County.

Journal House of Burgesses, Vol. 1, page IX.

(Upper Norfolk County, the present Nansemond end at that time Ragged Island was included in Upper Norfolk.)

June 3, 1699, the Council appointed George Norseworthy, Lieutenant-Colonel and Commander-in-chief of the County.

Capt. William English was a member of the House of Burgesses in 1627/28, for Elizabeth City in 1629, the Lower Parish of Elizabeth in 1632 and in 1632/3-1633, Journal House of Burgesses, 1619-1658/59, p. ix, x, XIII, XIV

(It seems more than probable that he was the father of the John English of Isle of Wight, who was a Burgess for this County in 1658/59. The loss of the records of Isle of Wight prior to 1660 and of the Elizabeth City records of course no documentary evidence is available, but being an unusual name and in the approximate section, with dates fitting it seems a reasonable conclusion.)

Capt. John English served as a Burgess for Isle of Wight in 1658/59, Seventeenth Century, Isle of Wight County, by Boddie, pages 102 and 703.

He is listed as Capt. William English (simply because their had been a Capt. William English on an early roll as proven from the following: The Journal of the House of Burgesses gave its reference as Stanard's Colonial Register, Stanard's reference given as Hening's Statutes, vol. I, p. 596-7. In this he is named solely as Capt. English, as Burgess for Isle of Wight.

Will of John English: -Leg.-daughter Frances Iles my picture; daughter Elizabeth Church, to son-in-law John Watts; grandson John Iles; grandson Hohn Watts; daughter Alice Watts; my three daughters, Mary Sarah and Martha English. Overseers, daughter Frances Iles and son-in-law John Watts.

vs.
Spendall and Maund.

Special verdict:

We of the jury find that George Noreworthy decd., died seized and possessed in fee simple of the land and premises in dispute.

We find that the said George Noreworthy duly made his will and testament in writing dated the first day of February in the year MDCC and that the said will was duly proved in the County Court of Nansemond on the twelveth day of June in the year MDCCV and that the said will was admitted to record.

We find an attached copy of the said will to which we refer

We find that the said testator amongst other things devised in his last will as followeth, to wit:

Item: I give to my daughter Julian Noreworthy, that tract of land lying on the southern branch of the Elizabeth River to her and her heirs lawfully begotten forever and for want of such heirs then to my son John Noreworthy and his heirs male lawfully begotten forever, for want of such heirs then to my son George Noreworthy and his male lawfully begotten forever, and for want of such heirs, then to my son Charles and his heirs male lawfully begotten forever and for want of such heirs, then to my son Thomas and his heirs male lawfully begotten forever and for want of such heirs then to return to my cousin Tristram Noreworthy and his heirs male forever.

Norseworthy.

SUFFOLK, VIRGINIA

April 28, 1937

Dear Mrs. Chapman:

I am in a quandary again. Now that you are ready to receive me, I have been called today for office work and I have no way of knowing at present how long it will last since I do not wish to project such a question. I would have no way of getting to Smithfield on Saturday afternoon, even if I do not have to work.

Could we do it on Sunday? I suppose I will find out the last of the week if my work will last into another week. I could have gone to Smithfield Tuesday but I don't know that you were home.

I am filling out a Colonial Dame line of ascent for a relative and need to make the connections. I'd much rather see you and talk the things over but it may be that we can do it through correspondence. I do not know how genealogists charge each other but I'll be glad to pay you for what I need and if it amounts to the five dollars mentioned according to your rates that will be allright. I will leave that to you.

This is the way I have it:

1. Tristram Norsworthy Purgess 1639-40; Justice & Lt. Col. Nansemond County 1654; Gent. of Ye Ragged Islands 1656
 2. Major George Norsworthy (eldest son of Tristram(1)) Nansemond Co. -Tyler
 3. Colonel George Norsworthy (Lt. Col. & Commander in Chief Nansemond County 1699 F. 1632, d. before 1707)
- George Norsworthy who married _____ Webb, daughter (of James Webb d. 1 and Elizabeth Godwin, dau. of Thos. Godwin.
d. 1717 d. 1677

The daughter of Geo. Norsworthy and _____ Webb, was Elizabeth Norsworthy and married John Monro. The line is worked out from here and I am sure you will recognize it. It is the same that my cousin, Col. William Couper wrote you concerning a few years ago. I have copy of the Court Order Feb. 17, 1675 releasing Col. Thos. Godwin from disposition of the James Webb property, etc. but it is not a certified copy. I also have copy of will of a James Webb dated Jan. 19, 1719 devising property for life to William Wilkinson and wife (250 acres) and then to be divided between Giles Webb and Richard Webb; all the rest of his estate to William Wilkinson and wife.

This William Wilkinson's wife was, I believe, Elizabeth Webb, dau. of James Webb and Eliz. Godwin. Then the James of the will of 1719 was probably her brother. Someone has called James Webb a Captain and I thought it referred to James Webb who married Eliz. Godwin but I do not know any reference for the captaincy. If you do, I'd be glad to know. Listed among the Purgesses from Nansemond County is Giles Webb 1652-60. Do you have these connections worked out?

Getting back to the Norsworthys. If the first three that I have listed are right according to your information, then what I need is the connection between them and the generation of George who married _____ Webb. I hope you know her first name also.

Will look to hear from you again. Sincerely, Mary F. Cowling.

Dear Mrs. Chapman,

Enclosed please find check for five dollars ($5.00) Thank you for sending the Southampton Co. book.

Wonder if you found anything about William Noyall Norworthy. William Noyall in his will left to daughter Martha Norworthy 1740. She was mother of William Noyall Norworthy. He lived in Sale of Wight until about 1765. He signed Joseph Norworthy's will in 1760. He moved to Bute County (now Warren) North Carolina. Please see if you can prove which George or Tristram was his father. Think he married in Sale of Wight about 1760.

Thanking you in advance
Yours Truly,

Sannie Myrick
